

The Versatile skate

The essence of versatility is having the ability to quickly adapt. You can go from rookie to pro as fast as your determination, talent and equipment can get you there. Then it's from indoor to outdoor, long courses to sprinting, track to road and trail. Inline speed skating comes in many forms, and with many disciplines, there's one skate to get you to the podium across them all: the Versatile.

The Cádomotus Versatile is an inline speed skate designed to ramp up your learning curve to get to the next level quicker. Choose from the most stable boots to start with, then find the wheel-base right for where you are with our Transformer multi-set-up frames.

Equipped with the CadoMotus Competition Transformer frame, you'll learn technique with it, train on it, and push yourself to speeds you never dreamed possible. We used to think this would be a frame you'd outgrow, and for beginners going from our 4 x 100mm / 3 x 110mm set up, there will be a graduation, but for those more seasoned or bigger athletes going from 4 x 110mm to 3 x 125mm, the 13.2 Comp TR is a frame you can skate on for years to come.

Not only will this frame serve you on the course, but it's the right fit when the pace isn't quite as fast. The difference between race ready size, purpose-driven practice or pleasure skate configurations are just a few quick turns of a hex-wrench away. Go from 3x125 to 4x110 or 4x100 in the blink of an eye, to keep the right pace with the right group or the right training goal. It's truly a frame for all skating opportunities that helps you create the right experience every time.

The Agility skate

Our entry level skate is the very definition of agility - it's easily the quickest and most nimble starter package in the sport. Officially adopted by the National Speedskating Circuit as their branded league skate, the Cádomotus Agility inline speed skate is what future pros are wearing when they're born.

The Agility is an inline speed skate built on our NewSpeed boot platform of stability, so your skater gets the benefits of stiff support to start building their power foundation. Combined with our innovative Transformer frame, this is the skate that will put your starter on the inside fast track to the podium, by helping them develop the technique of a World Champion.

It's uniquely designed to allow them to start in the appropriate set up for young legs, 4x 100mm. Once they develop to the point of proficiency, it's a simple adjustment to a fully functional 3x 125mm set up, and from there, the sky is the limit. It's one inline speed skating frame they can skate on for years to come.
